

ALBATROSS
COMING

Will Bring Several
Fish Commission Experts.

(Special to the Advertiser.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—The United States Fish Commission expedition to Hawaii will sail in a day or two from this port for Honolulu. The party will continue the work so ably begun by President Jordan of Stanford University, and Professor Jenkins, last summer. Charles H. Gilbert, who is the head of the zoology department at Stanford University, will be in charge of the expedition, and will be assisted by Professor C. C. Nutting of the zoology department of the University of Iowa, J. O. Snyder, instructor at Stanford in zoology, and Walter K. Fisher, a Stanford graduate, who has done special work in natural history investigations.

EUGENE FIELD'S WIDOW HERE.

On the Sonoma will arrive in Honolulu Mrs. Julia S. Field, widow of the distinguished dead poet, Eugene Field, whose verses have made a world laugh and weep. Mrs. Field has been in Alameda for some days, visiting the family of Henry K. Field, cousin of Eugene Field.

Mrs. Field is well known to all those who love the work of the Western poet, and who are familiar with his life, as the sweetheart whom he wooed so impetuously and won against the protestations of her relatives. She was Julia Catherine Comstock, and lived in St. Joseph, Mo. She was but sixteen years old when Field met her, and shortly afterwards he went to Europe. He stayed six months, and then returned and wedded Miss Comstock, despite barriers interposed. Often in his writings he has sung her praises, and told of her struggle to keep the family purse from being continuously emptied by his improvidence.

Mrs. Field lives in Chicago, where her husband spent the last years of his life. Her daughter, who made quite a reputation as a reader of her father's poems, is now married, and the other children are at college. Mrs. Field is accompanied on the Sonoma by a party of Chicago friends. They expect to remain about three months, and may go on to Samoa and Fiji.

MURPHY STILL AT WORK.

Francis Murphy, the apostle of temperance, is in Los Angeles conducting gospel temperance meetings in the Young Men's Christian Association Hall. Mr. Murphy is not as strong as he was in Honolulu, and finds his work telling on him. A Los Angeles paper says of him:

"During the early years of the Pennsylvania oil fields excitement, when life in the Alleghany mountains was as strenuous as ever was lived in a western mining camp, a name that was known from Pittsburgh to Scranton was Francis Murphy, the keeper of dance halls and saloons. Murphy was great in his work of creating intemperance, as he has been since in promoting total abstinence."

In 1870 Mr. Murphy delivered his first temperance lecture. He began then a crusade against drunkenness that swept on and on, till the name of Francis Murphy was known as wide as the world. At one series of meetings in Pittsburgh 45,000 people signed his pledge and became "Murphyes."

Mr. Murphy is now 66 years of age. His hair is almost snow white, and he shows in a growing feebleness the weight of hard work that he has done. But he has no thought of giving up the work. He has returned only lately from a trip to Australia and New Zealand, and before coming south held meetings at Sacramento and other cities in the northern part of the State. During the Spanish-American war he served as a chaplain with the army in Cuba.

Mrs. Murphy, who for a number of years worked with her husband, has given up traveling, and makes her home at Fair Oaks, near Sacramento, where they own a large ranch.

TO LOAD OIL FOR HAWAII.

The Standard Oil Company, it is understood, is in a project to build an electric railway from Ventura to Bakersfield. The purpose of the road is to carry oil from the Bakersfield wells to the port of Ventura, where a line of tank steamers will receive it for Hawaii and the Orient. The original surveys were for a pipe line to carry oil from the Kern and Sespe wells to the seaboard, but it was found that the production of the wells is too heavy for economical transmission through pipes, and the determination to build an electric railroad to haul the oil was reached.

TO SET THE WAHINES FREE.

At the National Women Suffrage Convention in Washington some days ago, Susan B. Anthony made an eloquent plea for the carriage of the gospel of women suffrage to the benighted heathens in Hawaii. She pleaded that the "long-suffering women of the Islands" be given an opportunity to know fully the saving grace of suffrage. Susan, who is, of course, the best known suffragist in America, worked herself into a very frenzy of pity for the wearers of the holoku, and it would not surprise me if she herself took a trip to Honolulu to investigate conditions. Speaking of the school teachers who have gone to the Philippine Islands, she said: "Think of them being under the heel of barbarians of the Philippines, and the barbarians sent from this country, who are worse than the Filipinos."

Susan Anthony wants to correspond with some wide awake woman in Honolulu, in order to stir up sentiment in favor of woman's right to vote. I have sent her the address of Princess Wilcox, and informed Mrs. Anthony of the strenuous life being led by the Princess

COMMERCIAL

Interest in financial circles of the week has been divided between the affairs of the Kona Plantation Company and the First National Bank. The former having emerged from the hands of the receiver the worse only for the two weeks' delay and the charges of the court, will now make an effort to get on its own feet, through the path of an assignment. There are hopes expressed that there will be plenty of money coming out of the creditors to finance the present obligations of the estate and place it right. The moneyed men of the city are anxious that all interests be conserved so that there may be nothing in the way of discredit cast upon the bonds of local plantations. As to the bank affairs, the gossip of the street and exchange puts the majority of the shares in the hands of the Mainland representatives, and those holders here who have large interests.

There has been during the week a continuance of the better feeling in Ewa, and a falling away of interest in Waiwala. The latter has not recovered from the effects of the annual meeting, and despite sales at the ruling rate of $22.50, the bid price has gone off to 51. At this, however, there are no offerings, and the prospects seem to be that when the market gets around to it there will be a better price to be had. The reports from the plantation, on the street, are of the very best, and the friends of the estate are most hopeful and satisfied.

The prices of Ewa have been alternating at $28.50 and $27.75, as the demand happens to be for small lots. The heaviest buyers are those who are still in the inside, and one of the largest stockholders has now in his safe 1,000 more shares, taken in since the price touched $25, and he is still buying. Oahu was sold in a small lot yesterday at 90, but there is little of the stock to be had at these rates.

After Ewa, there has been more activity in Oahu paid-up stock than in any other of the list. The reports which have come of the conditions on the plantation since the grinding season began, have been very encouraging. There passed some time without any transactions in this stock, and when the start of the buying began the price was $13.25, or a quarter above the standing bid price. From that point the stock went on up to $13.75, and the week closed with a demand for it at any price.

Hawaiian Sugar held its own during the week and the sales were right lively at $25.50, which was the ruling quotation before. There was a sagging of Kihai of $1, but the holders of the stock are keeping it pretty close to home, and there seems little chance that there will be much movement at that price. The sales during the week were: Waiwala, 55; Hawaiian Sugar, 100; Ewa, 155; Oahu, paid, 110; Kihai, 25; Oahu, 25.

There was little doing in the mercantile stocks or the bonds, the only sales of the latter being 1,000 of Oahu at $100, and the same of Waiwala at $101.50.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING.

The movement of real estate has been, as usual, small; but there is no perceptible change in values. The holders of earth are firm in their belief in the worth of their holdings, and they insist upon their prices being met. The only movement has been in a few small lots in the suburbs. In city property there is a waiting feeling, and there may be no developments for some time. There are three deals of which the agents talk hopefully, but they say it may be some time before there is any conclusion to the negotiations.

The only building which is about to be inaugurated is the Odd Fellows' home, at Fort and Chaplain streets, for which Architect Traphagen is now receiving bids. This structure will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000, and will be an ornament to the upper part of the principal street of the city. The building will consist of several storerooms and the halls of the order, and there will be sufficient decorative effect to make it in many ways the handsomest thing in the block.

The improvement of this corner is reported to have had the effect of causing some inquiry as to the corner of Beretania and Fort streets, where the lot is now held under lease by Contractor Fred Harrison. The plan of the owner of the leasehold is to allow it to remain for a time until there develops a demand, but several of the surrounding property owners are moving to have something done now to make the neighborhood of the very best. The construction of the new convent school has led to the widening of the street there, and the laying of the sidewalks as they should be, so the corner now remains the only unimproved piece for which plans are not in contemplation.

There is a little delay in the completion of the Rapid Transit Waikiki line, but this will not last long, and that line extension is expected to give an impetus to lot buying in the mid-Waikiki district.

There are several sales reported by each of the suburban agents, but these are of the same nature as those which have been ruling for the past month, principally small lots for small houses.

SAN FRANCISCO OPINION.

In regard to sugar shares, the San Francisco Financial Letter has the following to say:

Confidence is returning in the sugar shares. The danger from unlimited competition from Cuba seems to be removed. At most, the largest concession that will be made to Cuba, it appears from dispatches from Washington will be not more than 25 per cent. This will not injure the Hawaiian sugar planters, although it may effect an injury on the beet sugar growers. During the week Hawaiian sold at 35; Honolulu at 32; Hutchinson at 14; Puna at 12; and Hana advanced from 32 to 45.

The annual meeting of the Matson Navigation Company was held on the 13th. This company operates vessels between this port and Hilo. It has the following vessels: Steamer Enterprise, ship Falls of Clyde, bark Roderick Dhu, ship Marion Chilcott, bark Annie Johnson, bark Santiago.

The following directors were elected: William Matson, president; A. B. Spreckels, vice president; W. D. K. Gibson, N. Olandt, J. A. Buck, C. H. Daly, H. St. Goar; C. O. Douglas, secretary.

The steamer Enterprise is now being fitted to burn oil, and will be remodeled. The business of the company last year was very good. It is expected that it will be greatly increased this year.

It is not expected that it will be ready for occupancy before fall, but Miss Dillon is gathering many beautiful things with which to decorate it.

WORDS STRANGELY DISTORTED.

It is curious what little knowledge of Hawaiian geography is possessed by the average resident of the mainland. Constantly in the newspapers and in the weeklies I read of happenings in Hawaii, or interviews with people from the Islands, in which appear the queerest names of towns and places in the Islands. The average editor in the United States seems to have but a glimmering idea of how many ports there are in Hawaii. Especially in the reports of sugar plantations are the geographical names strangely bungled.

For instance, in the Examiner this morning it is recorded that the bark S. C. Allen and the bark Himalaya arrived from Hawaii, the Allen in 12 days and the Himalaya in 13 days. The Examiner says the Himalaya is from "Salina, an Island port."

In the New York Journal of Commerce the following paragraph appears: "The Hawaiian Sugar Company of Honolulu, it is reported, will shortly carry out irrigating operations and other improvements on its plantations at Makemeli, Kanar, which will entail an expenditure of some $200,000." Here we have a new island, "Kanar," and on it a new place, "Makemeli."

CURIOS FROM THE ISLANDS.

Miss Katherine Dillon will bring with her from Hawaii and the Orient on her return in May, many rare Hawaiian, Chinese and Japanese curios for her new home, which her mother, Mrs. Maurice Casey, is having built at the corner of Broadway and Baker streets. The house will be a very handsome one, and will overlook the bay. It is

READY FOR THE JURY

Evidence Closed in
Pearl Harbor
Case.

(From Saturday's daily.)

The evidence in the case of the United States vs. the Honolulu Plantation Company was all in by yesterday noon, and an adjournment was then taken until Monday morning, when the court and jury will hear arguments.

The jury will make the visit of inspection to the site of the proposed naval station today in charge of Marshal Hendry. The marshal is delegated to point out the boundaries and other matters of interest to the jury, both sides having agreed to this plan. It was proposed by the court that Captain White represent the government, and Manager Low the plantation in this respect, these together to describe the land for the benefit of the jury, but Mr. Dunne objected and asked that Marshal Hendry, who has already plotted two juries over the ground, be allowed to act as guide. Mr. Stillman agreed to this, and the court made the order.

There was one new feature in the case yesterday—the introduction of evidence relative to the value of the improvement, upon the property. E. Ward and William Wagner were placed on the stand by the defendant and testified that the buildings now on the Honolulu plantation land condemned by the government were worth from $10,000 to $15,000. This covered only the value of the buildings, and did not take into account the plumbing, or any other improvements in the nature of clearing, irrigation, etc.

To relate this testimony Mr. Dunne put on Chief Carpenter Pender, who is connected with the naval station, and he placed the value of these buildings at $15,882.40. He had it all figured out, too, having made an examination of the premises last December for the express purpose. He scheduled the property on the stand as follows: Fifteen buildings, at $10,000; twenty buildings at $15,000; one building, $250; one building, $182.20; one building, $50; one building, $20; one building, $20; one building, $20; fifteen shacks, $150; and one stable, $40.

Manager Low was also recalled by the plaintiff to testify as to the Dowsett lease. This closed the case for the government, and then Mr. Stillman asked that Mr. Low be allowed to take the stand to make an explanation of some testimony he had given. Mr. Dunne objected on the ground that the case was closed, but Judge Estee allowed the testimony. Mr. Low simply stated that these buildings were all temporary and had been hastily constructed to fill the immediate wants of the plantation.

The jury was then instructed to be at the railroad station at 9 o'clock this morning for the visit to the land. Judge Estee particularly cautioned every member of the jury not to take along spirits or liquors of any kind, as he said that the Supreme Court of the United States had held that such action was reversible error.

OFFICERS ARE AT LOGGERHEADS

There is all sorts of talk about the Warren, and some say she may go back to San Francisco. As to what the trouble is and why a court of inquiry has been called, the ship's officers are reticent, but the army officers and the crew have something to say.

The propeller blade affair made ill-feeling. The army men did not like the idea of being taken to sea in a disabled ship. As a result of the criticism, some of it coming from Captain Williamson, the spot quartermaster, Chief Engineer Phillips resigned. The new man who took his place went to work with a vim and found the boilers in bad shape. Some say they are in a dangerous condition.

Last week a board of inquiry was called, presumably for the purpose of investigating the scandal of the boilers. The court consists of Captain Vaites, president; Captain Ulline, Captain Smiley and Lieutenant Morgan, recorder. Whether they have met is not known.

A STRANGE WOMAN

SHE MADE A PROPHECY WHICH HAS COME TRUE.

Four Years Ago She Told a Young Girl What Would Come to Pass and Gave Her a Piece of Advice.

"More than four years ago, an unknown lady came up to me and told me something which has made me very happy," said Miss Mary Lyle McLachlan of No. 12 E. Third street, South Salt Lake City, Utah, to a reporter.

"Yes, it was a prophecy, and it came true and I shall always be grateful to her for the advice she gave me," she continued. "From the time I was thirteen years old until shortly after I saw this woman I was miserable. Every month I suffered horribly and I became weak and ran down. My head ached, I couldn't eat and I had a very severe cough all the time. I could scarcely stand, and took fainting spells and was always dizzy and tired. Besides this my liver and kidneys were affected."

"You can readily see," she went on, "that I couldn't get much pleasure out of life. Then this lady, whom I never saw before or since, came up to me and told me that she knew how I felt and advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, for they had cured her daughter who had been in a condition like mine. I took the pills and was better before I had finished the first box. I am entirely well now and take them whenever I do not feel as good as usual."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People will not only cure cases similar to that of Miss McLachlan but, containing as they do, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves, they have proved efficacious in a wide range of diseases. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuritis, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after-effects of the grip, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion, and all forms of weakness, either in male or female. Dr. Williams' Pills for Pale People are sold by all dealers or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, fifty cents a box, six boxes, two dollars and a half, by addressing Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.
